DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 21-24 and 34-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 21 has been amended to include a non circular surrounding surface. There is no support in the specification or original claims or drawings for non circular. This is considered new matter. Claim 36 has been added and claims expanding the tubular in an uncased well. There is no support for this in the specification original claims and drawings either. Claims 35 and 39 have been added to claim a second tubular member. There is no support for this either.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 21-24,36 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cook et al 20040045616.

Cook discloses a method of sealing a tubular 210 in a wellbore. The tubular member is deformed in a manner such that the tubular member assumes the shape of a non-uniform surrounding surface. The surrounding surface is considered non circular in at least the microscopic level, an open borehole is not circular. As to claims 22-24 and 38, paragraph 110 teaches that the sealing means can be either a ductile metal such as lead or an elastomer. As to claim 36, figure 2 is uncased.

Claims 21-23,36 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cumming et al 6070671.

Cumming discloses a method of expanding a tubular member 21 into contact with an uncased portion of the well. The tubular member 21 assumes the shape of the uncased well, which is non circular. As to claims 22,23 and 38, the tubing 21 forms a seal with the uncased well and the tubular is formed from a ductile metal. As to claim 36, the tubing is expanded into an uncased portion of the well.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 25-30,32 and 33 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/2/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to Cook, applicant argues that the tubular member does not assume the shape of a non circular surrounding surface and that the well is not uncased. Clearly figure 2 shows the tubular member being expanded in an uncased section. As to non circular, while this is considered new matter, all uncased or drilled boreholes are non circular in at least the microscopic level.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 21-24 and 34-39 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
